Laser Hair Removal

The LightSheer Diode Laser eliminates unsightly dark hairs quickly and with less discomfort than many other methods. This is an attractive alternative to plucking, shaving, waxing or chemical depilatories, that can produce long-term results on most parts of the body including the face, under arms and bikini line.

Laser Vein Removal

Small, spider-like veins on the face can now be removed quickly and easily. The treatment causes little or no discomfort and does not usually require anaesthesia. Spider veins and varicose veins of the leg are treated with injection compression therapy using sodium tetradecyl sulphate (STD)

Restylane & Perlane (hyaluronic acid)

These gels are injected into the skin of the face to 'iron out' wrinkles or add volume to the lips. They are safe and long lasting, but not permanent, and they leave no scars or other marks on the face. Perlane and Restylane can also be used to augment cheeks and chin, and mask jowls and the downward turning angles of the mouth.

Restylane Vital is used to re-hydrate the décolletage and the backs of the hands.

Collagen

Zyderm® and Zyplast® collagen implants are an easy and effective way to smooth facial lines, wrinkles, crow's feet and scars or provide greater lip border definition. They are amongst the most popular, safe and effective choices of injectable collagen implants currently available.

Sculptra (poly-lactic acid)

This natural product is a popular choice for the treatment of sunken temples, neck, forehead and hand wrinkles and for increasing cheek definition. Because it is a natural product allergic reactions do not occur and the effects of treatment should last for two-three years (according to published studies).

Radiesse™ (calcium hydroxy-apatite)

This injectable implant is particularly popular for the treatment of lines between the nose and the mouth and for chin and cheek augmentation. It is a long-lasting dermal filler and an attractive option for facial shaping and contouring. Can be used to augment cheeks.

CosmoDerm & CosmoPlast

These breakthroughs in facial rejuvenation contain natural human collagen purified from human dermal tissue. They provide immediate results in the treatment of frown lines, crow's feet, facial wrinkles and scars.

Botox (botulinum toxin Type A)

Botox is a proven form of wrinkle therapy that is often used to treat crow's feet, frown lines, bunny lines and forehead wrinkles. The result is an appreciable reduction in the appearance of lines that usually lasts for three to six months. Muscle bands in the neck and wrinkled skin on the chin can also be treated. Patients with excessive sweating of the arm-pits and the palms of the hands will also benefit. Results may last up to one year.

Endermologie

This is a non-surgical, full body procedure that uses rollers to gently massage and stretch the skin. It improves skin tone and significantly reduces cellulite.

Aesthetician Services

A complete range of services that includes facial massage, fruit acid peels (TCA) and an anti-oxidant collagen treatment. Benefits can include a reduction in the appearance of wrinkles, improved colouring and the promotion of healthy, glowing skin.

Micro-electric Therapy

This non-surgical system is based upon the ancient practice of acupuncture and shiatsu. By stimulating pressure points in the face it can help to lift sagging muscles and skin, eliminate wrinkles and rejuvenate the appearance of the face and neck.

Micro Dermabrasion

Scars can be unsightly or embarrassing but with dermabrasion or surgical scar revision their appearance can be made less obvious, or they can be concealed by repositioning them in less obvious places such as the hairline or a fold of skin.
